Hardanger

Milliken's new collection "Hardanger" was inspired by traditional fabrics that reflect warmth, comfort and artistic craftsmanship. For the foundation of this collection we created a fabric that brings to mind the large woolen yarns knitted into chunky cables on your favorite winter sweater. It is a fabric that envelops you with warmth and well-being....perfect for the home. The term Hardanger comes from a Nordic embroidery form stitched with layered threads that give a squared appearance. Inspired by the ability to bring this traditional art to the forefront of modern design, Milliken has created a patterning technique that mimics this stitched aesthetic. When this method is paired with the thick cables, a unique and modern look is created. A nod to the past and designing for the future is truly Milliken's legacy.

The collection brings a strong sense of glamour and sophistication to a space which is enhanced through a larger scale. The 7 dramatic scale patterns, playful texture and soft colors make familiar patterns fresh and exciting.

ALPINE RIB With its timeless design and beautifully textured surface, Alpine Rib delivers the look of your favorite winter sweater with a warm and cozy feel. Tufted to have a chunky rib effect, the tip sheared yarns open to deliver softness and comfort. Choose from thirteen colorations as a platform for any great design scheme.

MARL TWEED Inspired by homespun threads used in classic embroidery, this design layers colors close together on the color spectrum with soft bulky yarns to achieve a blissfully warm and soothing floorcovering. Available in twelve colorations ranging from light neutrals to deep shades of charcoal and mahogany.

SILKWOOD Gracefully flowing leaves drape across the floor in this organic pattern. Silkwood takes the idea of wide stitches to the floor as leaves evolve into a more modern pattern with hand-made quality, depth and texture. Its ten colorations provide a beautiful choice for a wide range of decorating styles.

STAMFORD Creating a variation on one of our most classic designs, the damask is always a popular choice. Now in a larger, more dramatic scale with a stitched aesthetic, this style has been modernized for today's interiors.
